

Contents

Introduction	9
Part I
Human resource and economic and social progress
Chapter 1
The decisive role of the human factor in the process of economic growth	15
1.1. Active population and economic growth.....	15
1.2. Work as native productive (production) factor.....	17
1.3. Human capital	20
1.4. Increased life expectancy and its impact	26
Chapter 2
Human development. Effect and cause of the economic and social progress	29
2.1. The concept of human development and its evolution	29
2.2. Attempts to quantify human development.....	36
Chapter 3
The complexity of the economy and the labor market, argument for planning the management of human (labor) resources	41
3.1. Considerations regarding labor economy.....	41
3.1.1. Labor economy as a competitive market between individual and rational agents.....	42
3.1.2. Labor economy as a personnel economy in the enterprise-organization.....	44
3.1.3. Labor economy as a stage in a system of dynamic interactions between organizations and individuals	45
3.2. Coordinates of the labor market.....	47
3.2.1. The neoclassical theory of labor markets (microeconomic approach)	47
3.2.2. The labor market and macroeconomic theory.....	56
3.2.3. The international labor market	58

Part IIThe planned management of human (labor) resources: origins and developments*Chapter 4

The scientific organization of labor	63
4.1. Fundamentals of scientific organization of labor	63
4.2. The evolution of thought regarding the scientific organization of labor	70
4.3. Developments in human resource management practice at European level	76
4.4. Departments or "human resources" directorates.....	78

Chapter 5

Anticipation and flexibility in the forecast management of human resources	83
5.1. The evolution of forecast management practices of human resources	83
5.2. Flexibility as an alternative to forecast human resources.....	86
5.3. The coexistence anticipation with flexibility in human resource management	90
5.4. Forecasting human resources on the short-term	93

Chapter 6

The complexity of human resources management forecast	99
6.1. The permanent adaptation of human resource management	99
6.2. The major purposes of forecast management in human resources	105
6.3. Forecast management of jobs.....	112

Part IIIHuman resource planning process*Chapter 7

Human resources and employment indicators	121
7.1. Indicators specific to the United Nations statistics.....	122
7.2. The possibility of restructuring and completing the human resource indicators system ...	126
7.3. Modeling the estimation of human (labor) resources	131
7.4. Indicators of international comparability of human (labor) resources	137

Chapter 8

Components of human resource planning activities	145
8.1. The human resource planning process	145
8.2. Estimating the needs and evaluating the staff offer	151
8.3. Fluctuation and the external labor market.....	153
8.4. The strategic planning of human resources	157

Chapter 9

The diagnostic analysis of human resources	161
9.1. The diagnostic analysis of staffing organization with labor resources.....	161
9.2. The diagnostic analysis of manpower qualification	164

9.3. The diagnostic analysis of labor resources stability	165
9.4. The diagnostic analysis of working time use	168
9.5. The diagnostic analysis of labor productivity.....	171
Chapter 10
Methods of human resources and labor productivity forecasting and planning.....	181
10.1. Forecasting country population	181
10.2. Forecasting the nation's human resources	188
10.2.1. Forecasting labor resources	188
10.2.2. Labor resource planning methodology.....	194
10.2.3. The balance sheets of labor.....	196
10.2.4. Forecasting the labor training activity.....	199
10.3. Forecasting labor productivity growth	200
10.3.1. General considerations	200
10.3.2. Forecasting labor productivity growth	201
10.4. The prospective approach to unemployment	205
Chapter 11
Job analysis and evaluation	215
11.1. Job analysis components.....	216
11.2. Job evaluation methods	221
11.2.1. Non-analytical job evaluation methods	222
11.2.2. Analytical job evaluation methods.....	226
Chapter 12
Personnel recruitment and selection	233
12.1. Personnel recruitment.....	234
12.2. Selection of human resources.....	240
Bibliography.....	251